FINANCE OP ED: NEVER DO WHAT THEY DO

By Dave Davenport (RS Broker)

If you know anything about Hip Hop artist (more than just a rapper) then you would know of the lyricist Black Thought. He is one of your favorite rappers' favorite rappers. He was one of the artists in the group called "The Roots." They had a song called "What They Do", where they tell other up and coming artist and youth to be informed about the traps of the industry.

This Hip Hop classic came from an era where the artist created a term called "Studio Gangsters." This means that a rapper who rapped about the streets as an artist that never was in the streets. For example, the studio gangster would rap about how many bricks he moved, and how many drugs he got for sale on the block. However, in real life, he has a bachelor's degree working for GlaxoSmithKline in the research department, creating a pill that lowers high blood pressure or something. Why do I bring up the topic of never do what they do? There are a few artist that literally live the gangster life that they rap about. Lil Durk is one of them (allegedly). You all heard about Lil Durk (Durk Devontay Banks) being arrested for murder for hire, as he wanted to revenge the death of his man.. You don't have to be in the streets to understand how Durk feels. Durk would've done better by helping to take care of his friends' kids since he was starting to make the change like 50 cent or JayZ did away from the streets. Or maybe Lil Durk had us fooled after he and J. Cole made the hit song "All My Life." But now, he cant be good for no one except the big corporations who make money off prisoners in jail. Basically, he cant help his kids or his friends kids or anyone in his family being locked in the slammer. Anyway, forgiveness is real- and always remember- Never Do What They Do. The goal is to win, not just to look like you're winning. Most of us talk about working hard, but we never talk about working smart. Let's start working smart and have a game plan for our kids' future. If you want to invest, please talk to your local bank or a financial advisor. Whether you're 20 or 60, a new transfer of wealth is upon the horizon. This isn't just the USA going through a change. The universe is... It won't be easy, but you never know until to try. Oh, and don't forget to

THE 2024 UPPITY AWARDS STARTED OFF WITH A BANG, HONOR SOME OF PHILLY'S BRIGHTEST STARS AND CHANGE MAKERS

By Andre Brown

What a night for many of Uptown’s brightest stars. Awards were given out to business owners, artists, community hero’s as well as actor and actress as well. Germantown Cricket Club served as the perfect venue to display greatness. But the night begin with a huge bang as a drum line opened the night “That was pretty cool” said James Williams the curator of the event.

The house was filled with Uptown Excellence from Jimmy Dasaint and Shelly Shell to Red Snapper and Teresa Lundy.

There was no shortage of family support from each nominee and award winners. There were no short of kind words to family and supporters of the night winner. After four years of excellence and even more to celebrate in Uptown and even the surrounding areas the event still was as grand as it always is in October.

Award winners included Dana Cowan, Lady Tweet, Damon Wilkins, Armand James, and Philly Girls Jump to name just a few. A Full list of award winners can be found on our social media page. Glocawear also represented with Za Mula taking home Female Hip-Hop artist of the year as well as honoring Eric (EA) Allen as well as Loud Mouth Potcast that won independent podcast of the year the second such win for the platform.

All together good times and awards made the night an amazing mix of excellence and praise for those who attended the event. The hopes is that the people and organization in Uptown continue to strive for excellence until the next celebration.

James Williams had the following to say- “the 2024 Uppity Awards was the perfect curated event being that we combined it with the Storm of fashion Awards and the Urban Xpressions Awards. This was the first year that the Uppity’s have become a city wide event. It’s no longer about Uptown it’s about a mentality of success in the black community”.

FEDERAL JUDGE REJECTS BIDEN POLICY SHIELDING IMMIGRANT SPOUSES, CHILDREN FROM DEPORTATION

By Ariana Figueroa
Pennsylvania Capital Star

A federal judge late Thursday struck down a White House policy that created a pathway to citizenship for people in the country lacking permanent status who were married to a U.S. citizen.

Eastern District of Texas Judge J. Campbell Barker ruled that the Biden administration overstepped its authority and the program “stretches legal interpretation past its breaking point” of U.S. immigration law. The suit was brought by Texas and other Republican-led states.

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security’s program, called “Keeping Families Together,” would have shielded at least 550,000 immigrant spouses and their children from deportation. With less than three months before President-elect Donald Trump is sworn into office, it’s unlikely the incoming administration will defend the program, and Trump has vowed to carry out mass deportations. In a Thursday interview with NBC News, Trump said “there is no price tag” when it comes to mass deportations and that his administration will have “no choice” but to carry them out.

“We obviously have to make the border strong and powerful and, and we have to — at the same time, we want people to come into our country,” he said to NBC. “And you know, I’m not somebody that says, ‘No, you can’t come in.’ We want people to come in.” Enacting mass deportations would be a costly undertaking that would require congressional approval, which could be easier if Trump is granted GOP control of Congress. Republicans are inching towards control of both chambers.

As the former president is set to enter a second term in January, he has vowed to immediately begin carrying out mass deportations and ending programs that have granted temporary protections for immigrants such as humanitarian parole.

Trump has criticized the Biden policy that was struck down Thursday as a “mass amnesty” program.

“Mass amnesty” is a legal term that is considered an official pardon, but the program had certain requirements. The individuals considered for citizenship had to have been married to a U.S. citizen for at least a decade and undergo an extreme vetting procedure by DHS.

“This is unsustainable and can’t be allowed to continue!” Trump wrote of the program when it was announced in June. “On day one, we will SHUT DOWN THE BORDER and start deporting millions of Biden’s Illegal Criminals.” The Texas judge, Barker, was appointed during Trump’s first term. The program was already put on hold in August when Texas

GOP Attorney General Ken Paxton led a suit against it. The states that joined the suit are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming.

Those states argued that the Biden administration overreached its authority in creating the program and that it would financially harm states if the people qualifying for citizenship were allowed to remain in the country.

The states were represented by America First Legal, an organization established by Trump adviser Stephen Miller — the architect of Trump’s hard-line immigration policies during his first term.

Ashley DeAzevedo, the President of American Families United, which represents U.S. citizens married to people without permanent status, in a statement urged the Biden administration to appeal the case.

“District Court Judge J. Campbell Barker did not just dismantle the Keeping Families Together program, he shattered the hopes of hundreds of thousands of American families,” she said. “Families like ours deserve better than this blatant attempt to stop a legal program, and we will not stop until the courts rectify this injustice.”

It’s estimated that roughly 500,000 spouses without legal status and their children would have been eligible to apply for a lawful permanent residence — a green card — under certain requirements. About 50,000 children who do not have legal status and have an immigrant parent married to a U.S. citizen would have also been included in that benefit.

NO PRESIDENTIAL TRANSITION AGREEMENT SIGNED YET BY TRUMP

By: Ashley Murray
Pennsylvania Capital Star

Two days before a key meeting with President Joe Biden, President-elect Donald Trump has not yet signed the necessary paperwork to unlock resources for a smooth transfer of power from one presidential administration to another. Trump’s transition spokesperson Brian Hughes told States Newsroom Monday that “The Trump-Vance transition lawyers continue to constructively engage with the Biden-Harris Administration lawyers regarding all agreements contemplated by the Presidential Transition Act.”

“We will update you once a decision is made,” Hughes said in a statement.

Biden will host Trump at the White House late

Wednesday morning, according to his public schedule.

One of the agreements in question includes a memorandum of understanding between the Trump-Vance transition and the U.S. General Services Administration for office space, information technology services, and staff assistance, as outlined in the 2010 update to the Presidential Transition Act of 1963.

The services are available to the president-elect, and to major presidential candidates following nominating conventions, but come with financial disclosure requirements and a contribution cap of $5,000 on transition-related donations from any one person or organization. The other is an MOU with the White House, negotiated by the incumbent and president-elect, to establish an ethics plan pertaining to members of the transition team and information sharing, including national security matters. The due date was Oct. 1.

‘Peaceful and orderly’ transition urged

White House press secretary Karine Jean-Pierre told reporters Friday that Chief of Staff Jeff Zients has reached out to the Trump-Vance transition team’s co-chairs Linda McMahon and Howard Lutnick, both major campaign donors.

“So we’re going to leave that line of communications open. We’re going to be helpful here. We want to have an effective, efficient transition of power,” Jean-Pierre said.

Biden said Thursday from the White House Rose Garden that a “peaceful and orderly transition” is what “the American people deserve.”

The transition memoranda are available online, and the public can view the agreements filed in September by Vice President Kamala Harris, the 2024 Democratic presidential nominee who ultimately lost to Trump. Raskin calls on Trump to act Democratic Rep. Jamie Raskin, the top Democrat on the U.S. House Committee on Oversight and Accountability, called on Trump’s campaign in October to complete the paperwork. “Breaking the precedent set by every other presidential candidate since 2010, you have rejected these resources and refused to commit to a smooth transition,” Raskin wrote in an Oct. 23 letter.

The Maryland Democrat surmised in the letter that the Trump team’s paperwork delinquency “may be at least partially driven” by an attempt to skirt the financial disclosure and limit rules.

“With fewer than three weeks left until an election in which the American people will select a new President of the United States, I urge you to put the public’s interest in maintaining a properly functioning government above any personal financial or political interests you may perceive in boycotting the official transition law and process,” Raskin wrote.

In February 2021, the Biden-Harris administration filed a 1,021-page transition-related donation and expense disclosure.

PA. HOUSE DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL FOR GREATER COOPERATION WITH REPUBLICAN SENATE IN NEW SESSION

across this country.” The House Democratic Caucus announced Tuesday that Bradford will remain in his role as majority leader and House Speaker Joanna McCClinton (D-Philadelphia) would retain her leadership position next year. Rep. Mike Schlossberg (D-Lehigh) will take over from Rep. Dan Miller (D-Allegheny) as whip, and Rep. Rob Matzie (D-Allegheny) will take Schlossberg’s place as caucus chairperson. All other roles would remain unchanged with Rep. Tina Davis (D-Bucks) as caucus secretary, Rep. Leanne Kruger (D-Delaware) as caucus administrator, Rep. Ryan Bizzarro (D-Erie) as policy chairperson, and Rep. Jordan Harris (D-Philadelphia) as appropriations chairperson.

The Pennsylvania House of Representatives returned to session Tuesday, a week after the House Democratic Caucus maintained its narrow majority in one of the party’s few election victories. With a second session in control of the state legislature’s lower chamber starting in January, leaders said they hope to build on bipartisan success in the 2023-2024 session. Those included tax relief for working families and senior citizens and new education funding to begin correcting longstanding inequity between the state’s poorest and wealthiest school districts. And although legislative goals of both parties, such as increasing funding for public transit and transportation infrastructure, remain unrealized, House Majority Leader Matt Bradford (D-Montgomery) said he hoped the Republicans in control of the state Senate would respond to the changed “political calculus” with recognition of the parties’ shared responsibilities. “We’re not just going to retread the last session and run into the same walls,” Bradford said in a news conference Tuesday afternoon. “We’re going to keep turning the Rubik’s Cube with our Senate Republican colleagues.” With the election of Republican Joe Picozzi to the Philadelphia Senate seat now held by Sen. Jimmy Dillon (D-Philadelphia) city issues would become Republican issues, Bradford said. “The simple reality is now our Senate Republican caucus has representation in northeast Philly, and I would say to that new member, ‘how do you feel about shutting down public transit in Philadelphia?’ I challenge your caucus now to step to the table,” Bradford said. On the House floor Tuesday, the chamber heard parting words from former Speaker Mark Rozzi (D-Berks) who served in the role during the tumultuous first two months of the 2023-2024 session, when the House deadlocked over which party’s nominee would be elected. Rozzi gained the votes needed to take the speaker’s gavel in a deal with Republicans in which he agreed to become an independent. He later suffered backlash and lost a close Republican ally in his fight to provide legal relief for victims of child sexual abuse for failing to change his affiliation. Although Rozzi’s goal of establishing an exception to the civil statute of limitations for sexual abuse victims to sue their abusers and enablers was unrealized, he succeeded in eliminating the deadline to prosecute abuse criminally. “I can remember the day that, the day that really started this journey for me,” Rozzi said, recognizing his mother, Grazia’s support for him as a victim of abuse by a priest.

“Back in 1984 where after being raped in the shower, I ran home, and when I got home, I was hyperventilating, and she knew something was wrong,” recalling that his mother took him to school the following Monday and confronted the principal. “And she made sure that I never served another day in that church.” House Appropriations Committee Chairman Jordan Harris (D-Philadelphia) said the reelection of 102 Democrats to the chamber was a reminder that each was chosen by a majority of their 60,000 constituents. “Many hopes and dreams were dashed on Tuesday night and on Wednesday many people woke up with the fear of the unknown,” Harris said. “But in the midst of the red wave, there was a little old blue ship in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and that blue ship rode every wave that was thrown its way from the nine special elections to rolling in the face of the red wave that we’ve seen come

If the second bidder accepts this option, he/she agrees to purchase the property for the same price as the highest bidder. The second bidder shall deposit 10% of the purchase price by 5:00PM EST on the first (1st) business day following the auction date. On that date the second bidder will be apprised of the status of the winning bidder's deposit, and shall be told his/her 10% will be kept on deposit. The second bidder shall also be told he/she is liable for the 90% balance fifteen (15) calendar days from this date, if the highest bidder does not comply. If the highest bidder did not complete the sale, second bidder will have five (5) calendar days to complete the sale. If that 5th day falls on a holiday or weekend day, then the balance is due on the next business day by 5:00PM EST. 16. All bidding after the minimum bid, as described in Paragraph 4., shall be in increments of at least One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00)

MOTHERS MAKING MUSIC & MOVES: CELEBRATING PHILADELPHIA'S TRAILBLAZING WOMEN IN MUSIC AND MOTHERHOOD

By Shelly Shell

Philadelphia was alive with a celebration on September 24, 2024, as SCH Creative and Performing Arts presented Mothers Making Music & Moves, a remarkable event honoring women who seamlessly balance motherhood with thriving careers in the music industry. The Venice Island Theater provided the perfect stage, packed with energy, live performances, and heartfelt recognition of these trailblazing women. This inaugural gathering was the brainchild of Suzann "Su Dat" Christine, a Philadelphia artist and businesswoman with a clear mission: to uplift mothers who navigate unique challenges within a male-dominated industry. The evening's honorees—Felicia Williams, Jean Carne, and Dyana Williams—each brought a legacy of mentorship, artistry, and groundbreaking work. Hosted by Power 99's Roxy Romeo, the night was filled with inspiring stories, a panel discussion, and a chance for the audience to hear directly from these influential women.

Felicia Williams, a principal at HiTouch Enterprises, was celebrated for her enduring impact on Philadelphia's entertainment landscape, sharing the stage with legends like Dyana Williams, known as the "Mother of Black Music Month," and jazz sensation Jean Carne. Felicia expressed her gratitude for the honor, calling the experience "phenomenal" and describing how her "heart is full" from the community's embrace.

Councilmember Isaiah Thomas made a special appearance, bringing a touch of official recognition to the event with city citations presented to all honorees and panelists, including Queen Yaszy, Naima Vivian, Bianca Ingram, Troi Lauren, Alexandra Cutler-Fetkewicz, Ebony Joi, Angie Wells, and Sunni Smilez.

The event would not have been possible without the dedication of SCH CAPA's "Dream Team" board members, who worked tirelessly to make this vision a reality. This powerhouse team, minus Pam English (who went above and beyond despite being on tour in the UK), included Izzy Ike, Caliph Gamble, Carolyn Ritter Watson, Shelly Williams, Kyah Nixon, Denise Hurst Green, Saj Blackwell, Donnique Bell, and honoree Felicia Williams.

SCH CAPA's dedication to empowering youth shone brightly throughout the night, with all proceeds supporting the organization's free after-school programs in Philadelphia aimed at nurturing young aspiring artists.

With Mothers Making Music & Moves slated to become an annual celebration, SCH CAPA invites sponsors to join in supporting this impactful event. Those interested can reach out to Suzann Christine at suzann@schcapa.org for information on sponsorship packages or click <https://donate.stripe.com> to partner in sponsorship. Together, we can continue to uplift and honor mothers in music who inspire, educate, and uplift future generations.

A NIGHT OF RESILIENCE AND HOPE: SOLDIER OF LOVE FOUNDATION'S 9TH ANNUAL DOMESTIC VIOLENCE EMPOWERMENT GALA

By Shelly Shell

Under the inspiring leadership of President and CEO Necol Millsip, the Soldier of Love Foundation's 9th Annual Domestic Violence

Empowerment Gala was a night dedicated to strength, resilience, and renewed hope for change.

The Soldier of Love Foundation's 9th Annual Domestic Violence Empowerment Gala was a profound evening of hope, resilience, and transformation. Held on October 11, 2024, at the stunning Itsae Ballroom, the black-tie affair gathered a compassionate community to support children, teens, and adults affected by domestic violence.

With heartfelt elegance, Mimi Brown hosted the evening, guiding guests through an inspiring program filled with powerful speeches, honors, and performances. As Paul Anthony sang "All Cried Out," his voice echoed the deep sentiment often experienced by survivors—heartbreak, resilience, and the courage to rebuild. This moving tribute resonated with attendees, underscoring the strength it takes to heal and rise beyond the pain.

The night celebrated honorees and organizations who have made a significant impact in their communities, with a dedication dance and video tribute honoring survivors. Guests enjoyed a beautiful buffet dinner, entertainment, and dancing while the gathering reinforced a shared commitment to a world without violence.

Through ticket sales and sponsorships, the event raised funds to provide vital services like counseling, safe housing, and educational resources, all crucial for supporting survivors on their journeys. This unforgettable evening left everyone with a renewed sense of purpose, united in the mission to empower survivors and create a safer, more compassionate future.

Your support is still needed to donate to the organization and for more information, please visit soldieroflovefoundation.org or call 215-995-3151. Together, we can create a future where everyone has the opportunity to thrive in safety and dignity.
