Renewed Commitment to HBCUs: A Presidential Push for Excellence and Innovation

RENEWED COMMITMENT TO HBCUs: A PRESIDENTIAL PUSH FOR EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION

By James Williams,
Editor-in-Chief

On April 23, 2025, the White House issued a powerful executive order reaffirming the federal government's commitment to supporting Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs). This new directive, which builds upon the framework established in prior administrations, reestablishes the White House Initiative on HBCUs under the Executive Office of the President and calls for an expansive, coordinated effort to elevate these institutions as engines of educational excellence, workforce development, and economic opportunity.

HBCUs have long served as critical gateways to upward mobility for Black Americans and other underserved communities. They produce a disproportionate share of Black professionals in fields such as medicine, education, law, and engineering. The executive order acknowledges that to fulfill America's promise of equal opportunity, the government must not only recognize the legacy of these institutions—but actively invest in their future.

The Initiative is tasked with two core missions. First, it seeks to expand private-sector partnerships to strengthen HBCUs' infrastructure, financial capacity, and student career pathways. This includes connecting students with job opportunities in high-demand sectors like technology, healthcare, and manufacturing. Second, it aims to support HBCUs' institutional development and student success strategies—through better access to federal funding, research support, and affordability initiatives.

A key component of the order is the revival of the President's Board of Advisors on HBCUs, housed in the Department of Education. This board will bring together voices from business, philanthropy, academia, and HBCU leadership to provide direct input to the President and ensure that policy decisions are informed by those on the frontlines of Black higher education.

The order outlines efforts to implement the HBCU PARTNERS Act, improve agency collaboration, and promote public-private partnerships. It even calls for an annual White House Summit on HBCUs, ensuring these institutions are front and center in national conversations on education and innovation.

Importantly, this order re-vokes Executive Order 14041 and directs the dissolution of the HBCU and MSI Advisory Council housed in the EPA, streamlining efforts and centralizing authority under the Executive Office.

This is not just bureaucratic housekeeping—it's a strategic investment in America's educational and economic future. As the global economy demands new skillsets and innovation, the country cannot afford to overlook the talent cultivated at HBCUs. Through this executive order, the administration sends a clear message: HBCUs are not only part of the American story—they are essential to its next chapter.

COVER STORY

Cindy Bass Launches 'Playing It Safe in the 8th' as Violence Rises at Philadelphia Playgrounds in 2025

By James Williams, Editor-in-Chief

In 2025, playgrounds across Philadelphia—once symbols of neighborhood unity and childhood joy—are increasingly the backdrop for violence. While homicides and shootings have declined citywide, the surge in playground and recreation center incidents reveals deep cracks in the city's public safety system. For Philadelphia's youth, the danger feels personal—and immediate.

In April alone, Philadelphia witnessed several high-profile shootings involving teenagers at playgrounds. A 15-year-old was critically wounded at Frankford Playground, just steps away from where families had gathered. At Lonnie Young Playground in Germantown, an 18-year-old was shot in front of nearly 40 children. In Kingsessing, a teenager was fatally gunned down while sitting on a bench at Russell DeRitis Playground. These events have left communities shaken and mourning, and they highlight an urgent need for sustained, localized interventions to keep children safe.

Despite a 35% drop in homicides and a 36% decline in shootings compared to the previous year, youth gun violence remains a glaring issue. Since 2022, more than 350 individuals under 18 have been shot in Philadelphia, with at least 44 fatalities. Aggravated assaults—many of which occur in or near public spaces like playgrounds—have not seen the same decline, emphasizing the uneven distribution of safety improvements across the city.

In direct response to these growing concerns, Councilwoman Cindy Bass has launched a bold, proactive initiative called "Playing It Safe in the 8th." Announced at a press conference on April 25 at Happy Hollow Recreation Center, the initiative is designed to create safer, more supportive environments across the 8th District's recreation centers.

The core of the program is the introduction of Community Partnership Hubs—shared spaces staffed daily by trained violence intervention specialists from the Philadelphia Anti-Drug/Anti-Violence Network (PAAN) and Community Relations Officers from the Philadelphia Police Department. These hubs are not enforcement-based; instead, they focus on de-escalation, real-time engagement, and conflict prevention.

Phase one will launch at four pilot sites: Jerome Brown, Happy Hollow, Lonnie Young, and Belfield Recreation Centers—all selected for their high youth engagement and histories of safety concerns.

"We know our recreation centers are safe havens for families—but we also know they need to feel that way every day," said Councilwoman Bass. "This initiative brings together trusted community voices and trained professionals to provide a consistent, non-enforcement presence that supports our youth, prevents violence, and builds lasting trust."

This program is a collaborative effort involving Philadelphia Parks and Recreation, PAAN, and the Philadelphia Police Department's 14th, 35th, and 39th Districts. It reflects a model of community care that doesn't rely on criminalization but instead leans into relationships, trust, and presence.

While programs like

"Playing It Safe in the 8th" offer promise, they must be part of a broader citywide strategy. This includes investing in youth mentorship and sports, expanding trauma and mental health services, supporting neighborhood coalitions in violence prevention, and protecting and upgrading recreational infrastructure in underserved areas.

Playgrounds should never be places where children dodge bullets—they should be where they dream, run, and thrive. In 2025, Philadelphia stands at a crossroads. The choices made now—by leaders, by communities, and by institutions—will shape whether our children grow up in spaces of fear or freedom.

Why Pennsylvania Should Think Twice Before Joining the National Popular Vote Compact

SHOULD THINK TWICE BEFORE JOINING THE NATIONAL POPULAR VOTE COMPACT

DISENFRANCHISE RURAL VOTERS

By James Williams,
Editor-in-Chief

State Rep. Chris Rabb and Rep. Heather Boyd have reintroduced House Bill 270, legislation that would enroll Pennsylvania in the National Popular Vote Interstate Compact—a coalition of states that pledge their electoral votes to the winner of the national popular vote, regardless of who wins within their own borders. Proponents say it would make every vote count equally. But behind the surface of fairness lies a deeper threat to the balance of American democracy—particularly for rural states and communities like many across Pennsylvania.

The United States has never been a pure democracy. It is a constitutional republic founded on a system of checks and balances, designed to protect both the majority and the minority. The Electoral College—established in 1787—was one of those mechanisms, created to ensure that all states, regardless of population size, have a voice in the selection of the nation's leader. The Founding Fathers understood the dangers of concentrated power and designed the Electoral College to compel candidates to seek broad, nationwide support, not just popularity in densely populated areas.

By contrast, the National

Popular Vote Compact would upend this principle. If enacted, it would effectively nullify the will of Pennsylvania voters if their choice differed from the national majority. With Pennsylvania's 19 electoral votes at stake, the state could end up awarding its votes to a candidate who lost here but won in places like California or New York. That isn't representation—it's surrender.

The effects of such a shift would be felt most harshly by rural communities. Under the current Electoral College system, presidential campaigns must build coalitions that include a wide variety of states—urban, suburban, and rural alike. But a popular vote system would incentivize candidates to focus exclusively on the biggest population centers. Cities like New York, Los Angeles, and Chicago could dominate campaign strategy, while rural and small-town voters in places like Central and Western Pennsylvania would be ignored. Their votes would still be counted, yes, but their concerns would no longer shape campaign platforms or policy agendas.

This is why critics argue that the National Popular Vote movement risks disenfranchising rural Americans. It doesn't do so by taking away their right to vote—it does so by making their votes politically irrelevant. In a country where a small handful of cities could decide a national election, the voices of farmers, miners, small business owners, and working-class families outside the urban core would be muted.

Supporters of H.B. 270 claim it would make elections more democratic, pointing out that five presidents in U.S. history—including two in recent decades—won the presidency without winning the popular vote. But these outcomes are not flaws; they are features of a system designed to protect national unity and ensure presidents represent the interests of a diverse federation of states, not just the majority in a few urban centers.

Moreover, the National Popular Vote Compact itself is legally dubious. It seeks to alter the balance of presidential elections without a constitutional amendment—a move that could be challenged in court and create chaos in future elections. Instead of strengthening the electoral system, it introduces uncertainty and undermines the constitutional foundation of presidential elections.

Pennsylvania, as one of the nation's most diverse and electorally influential states, has long played a pivotal role in determining the presidency. That influence comes not just from its population, but from its geographic and ideological diversity—a blend of rural, urban, and suburban voters that candidates must court and understand. Abandoning that role to align with national vote totals is not democratic progress; it's political abdication.

The Electoral College isn't perfect, but it has served this country for over two centuries by compelling candidates to build consensus across regional, cultural, and economic lines. Rather than rush into a compact that sacrifices the political voice of rural Pennsylvanians, we should reaffirm the value of a system that protects all voices—especially those that are too often overlooked.

In a nation as large and varied as ours, fairness doesn't come from counting votes alone. It comes from ensuring that every community matters—not just the most crowded ones. House Bill 270 would move Pennsylvania—and the country—in the wrong direction.

PHILADELPHIA COUNTY MORTGAGE
FORECLOSURE CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. Based on the health and safety recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (“CDC”) and Pennsylvania Department of Health (“Department of Health”) due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the scheduled sale shall be conducted virtually at Bid4Assets.com (“Bid4Assets”).

2. YOU MUST BE EIGHTEEN (18) YEARS OF AGE OR OLDER TO BID.

3. All bidders must complete the Bid4Assets online registration process to participate in the auction (“Auction”). All bidders must submit a Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) deposit (“Deposit”) plus a Thirty-Five Dollars ($35.00) non-refundable processing fee to Bid4Assets before the start of the Auction. Such single Deposit shall be associated with the Auction held as of this date (“Auction Date”) and shall allow a bidder to bid on all of the properties that are listed on the Auction Date. The Deposit will be applied to the 10% down payment required for all purchased properties. If the Deposit exceeds the 10% down payment required for all purchased properties, the excess will be applied towards the total balance due. If the 10% down payment required for all purchased properties is greater than the $10,000.00 Deposit, the balance due to reach the 10% down payment amount is due by 5:00PM on the next business day after the auction date.

4. All properties are sold “AS IS” with NO expressed or implied warranties or guarantees whatsoever. The Sheriff and Bid4Assets shall not be liable as a result of any cause whatsoever for any loss or damage to the properties sold. In anticipation of participating in the Auction and purchasing a property, the bidder assumes all responsibility for due diligence. It is the responsibility of the bidder to investigate any and all liens, encumbrances and/or mortgages held against the property which may not be satisfied by the post-sale Schedule of Proposed Distribution under Pa. R.C.P. 3136 (“Schedule of Proposed Distribution”).

5. The plaintiff’s attorney shall submit the plaintiff’s upset price (“Upset Price”) to Bid4Assets, via the attorney online portal, at least one (1) hour prior to the start of the Auction. The Upset Price is the least amount the plaintiff will accept for a property. The Sheriff’s costs will be added to the Upset Price to determine the reserve price for the auction. The reserve price is the minimum dollar amount the Sheriff will accept for the sale to go to a third-party bidder. Bidders will not know what the reserve price is, but they will see when the reserve price has been met.

6. The sale of the property will not be stopped unless The Sheriff’s Office is contacted by the Attorney on the Writ, by Court Order or at the discretion of the Sheriff.

7. If the reserve price is met, the highest bidder shall be the purchaser. By close of business the next business day after the auction, the purchaser is responsible for 10% of the purchase price for each property purchased plus a buyer’s premium of 1.5% of the total purchase price of each property purchased. The purchaser shall pay the balance of 90% of the purchase price for each property purchased plus a $35 processing fee by 5:00PM EST on the fifteenth (15th) calendar day following the Auction Date unless that day falls on a holiday or weekend day, then the balance is due on the next business day by 5:00PM EST. Payments are due as stated above, NO EXTENSIONS AND NO EXCEPTIONS.

8. Failure to comply with the Conditions of Sale including, but not limited to, the failure to pay the remaining balance by any due date (the 10% down payment due date is the day following the auction; the 90% balance due date is 15 days after the auction date) and complying with all post-sale instructions required by the Sheriff and Bid4Assets, shall result in a default (“Default”) and the down payment shall be forfeited by the bidder.

9. If a bidder wins multiple properties and does not comply with the conditions of sale for each property he is deemed in Default and all of the consequences of a Default will apply.

10. The highest bidder shall be responsible for any and all post sale costs that are imposed by law, which are incurred by the Sheriff. Please be advised that the Realty Transfer Taxes have been calculated and included in the bid amounts.

11. On any auction that results in a third-party sale, the bidder who was directly outbid by the highest bidder will be given the option to register as a second bidder. If the second bidder accepts this option, he/she agrees to purchase the property for the same price as the highest bidder. The second bidder shall deposit 10% of the purchase price by 5:00PM EST on the first (1st) business day following the auction date. On that date the second bidder will be apprised of the status of the winning bidder’s deposit, and shall be told his/her 10% will be kept on deposit. The second bidder shall also be told he/she is liable for the 90% balance fifteen (15) calendar days from this date, if the highest bidder does not comply. If the highest bidder did not complete the sale, second bidder will have five (5) calendar days to complete the sale. If that 5th day falls on a holiday or weekend day, then the balance is due on the next business day by 5:00PM EST. If the second bidder is non-compliant he/she will forfeit his/her deposit to Sheriff. If the highest bidder completes the transaction, the second bidder will get his/her deposit refunded within 10 business days.

12. The Sheriff’s Office, in its sole discretion, may cancel the sale after the auction closes for any reason.

13. The Plaintiff shall submit any pre-sale postponements or stays to the Philadelphia Sheriff’s Office prior to 3:00PM the day before the auction.

14. The Plaintiff’s attorney shall enter any auction day postponements or stays on his/her Bid4Assets attorney portal. This includes any postponement or stay that was not submitted to the Philadelphia Sheriff’s Office prior to the 3:00PM deadline the day before and any postponement or stay that occurs during the auction.

15. The Plaintiff, pursuant to Court Order, may cancel the sale after the Auction closes for any reason.

16. All bidding after the minimum bid, as described in Paragraph 4, shall be in increments of at least One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00)

17. If the Sheriff’s grantee is to be anyone other than the purchaser registered with Bid4Assets, a notarized written assignment of bid must be filed with the Sheriff’s Office of Philadelphia.

18. The Sheriff will not acknowledge a deed poll to any individual or entity using unregistered fictitious name and may, at the discretion of the Sheriff, require proof of identity of the purchaser or the registration of fictitious names. The bid of an unregistered fictitious name shall be forfeited as if the bidder failed to meet the terms of sale.

19. The Sheriff reserves the right to refuse purchase from bidders who have failed to enter deposits, failed to make settlement or for any other reason at Sheriff’s sole discretion and further reserves the right to deny access to future sales for a period of time as determined by the Sheriff.

20. The Sheriff will file in the Prothonotary’s office a Schedule of Distribution Thirty (30) Days from the date of sale of Real Estate. Distribution will be made in accordance with the Schedule unless exceptions are filed thereto within Ten (10) days thereafter. Any balance exceeding the payouts per the Schedule of Distribution and Exceptions thereto, shall be paid to the homeowner at the time of sale.

21. When the Sheriff’s Deed Poll is issued to the winning bidder, he/she becomes the official new owner of the property. If the property is occupied, the new owner must start a judicial procedure for ejectment to have the occupant removed.

22. All auctions are conducted pursuant to Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure and the local rules of the City and County of Philadelphia.

WARNING: All Sheriff’s Sales are strictly monitored for any and all suspicious and fraudulent activity (Including but not limited to Computer, Identity, Bank, Wire, etc.). If the Sheriff’s office detects any suspicious and/or fraudulent activity during any sale, at the Sheriff’s discretion, the bidder’s account shall be suspended for whatever action deemed appropriate. Furthermore, those individuals face both criminal and civil liability and will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Very truly yours,
ROCHELLE BILAL, Sheriff

Conclusion:

Whether you're in the mood for a gourmet experience, a legendary sub, a soulful meal with live jazz, or an elegant seafood dinner by the water, Atlantic City's restaurant scene has it all. With so many fantastic options, your biggest challenge might be deciding where to eat first!

If you're planning a visit, be sure to book reservations — especially at hot spots like Chef Vola's, Cafe 2825, and Dock's Oyster House, where seats are limited and demand is high.

Enjoy your culinary adventure in Atlantic City!
